THE CHOWANOKA

CHOWAN COLLEGE
Murfreesboro, North Carolina
1979-80
Volume XXXVII

CHOWANOKA DEDICATION

The person we honor with this yearbook edition is relatively new to the faculty of Chowan College, and is completing his second year of service in the life and progress of this institution. Even in this short span of time, he has gained the high respect and esteem of his students for dedication to the teaching profession, and for his deep concern and genuine interest for his students.

In addition to his many duties and responsibilities in the photography classrooms and laboratories, he has unselfishly given countless hours in his role as academic advisor to this publication.

Our token of appreciation is small and inadequate; however, we, the yearbook staff of 1980, do gratefully and affectionately dedicate this volume of THE CHOWANOKA to our friend and professor . . .

GRADUATION OF '79

Last minute preparations are made in the auditorium of McDowell Columns.

The early years brought a dramatic increase in the enrollment, which soared to a high of almost 1,500 students. This growth had been made possible by the opening of a new men's dormitory during the decade. The new $1.3 million science-engineering facility was opened in January, 1973. The new $2.5 million gymnasium- physical education center was nearing completion in December, 1979.

Also, during the '70s, extensive repair and renovation work was done to McDowell Columns. Two interior walls were replaced and the chapel-auditorium was completely renovated.

During the 1972-73 academic year, Chowan faced a new challenge brought on by a sharp enrollment decline and rising costs. The reduced enrollment to approximately 985 had been anticipated by the administration and Board of Trustees. The college responded by seeking ways to tighten its belt without sacrificing the quality of its academic program.

Chowan also embarked on a period of evaluation and study. The college emerged with new programs and emphases, geared to broaden its service to students. As a result of a study of the interests and needs of its students, a number of career education programs were initiated during the '70s to complement Chowan's traditional emphasis in liberal arts. These include photography, newswriting and advertising, commercial art, and merchandising management. All have proved popular with students.

Additional services and personnel were provided through the Department of Student Development in the areas of guidance and counseling and residence hall living. More attention was given to helping provide students with financial aid.

The college reaffirmed its heritage as a Baptist college devoted to helping the individual student realize his potential through mental, physical and spiritual growth. With the change of status of Wingate College to a four-year school, Chowan was left as the only two-year college sponsored by the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina. This has proved to be a plus for the college.

Campus evaluation was accelerated by the participation of the college in the institutional self-study during the 1977-78 calendar years. This led to Chowan receiving reaffirmation of its accreditation.

Chowan has been strengthened by this period of study and innovation. Since the mid-seventies, the enrollment has stabilized in the area of 1,000-1,100 students.

Another cause of optimism as Chowan enters the '80 is the level of financial support the college enjoyed during the past decade. The Annual Giving Fund goal has been met each year since the program was launched in 1974. The amount received has increased from $50,000 the first year to over $65,000 during 1978-79. The success of the Annual Giving Fund Program has helped Chowan to continue to operate in the black, something the college has done for the past 22 years.

Chowan alumni have increased their support. A Parents Association has been formed and is providing support. The $2.5 million Chowan received in pledges and gifts for its new gymnasium doubled its previous largest campaign to construct the new science-engineering facility.

Chowan is now emphasizing its general endowment program. Endowment has reached $2 million and the college has announced a goal of $5 million within three years and a goal of $50 million within a generation.

During the '70s, Chowan's athletic teams brought acclaim to the college. Among the more notable achievements are the basketball team winning two straight regular season conference championships and placing second in the regional meet in 1979; the football team compiling a record of nine winning seasons and sending scores of players, including a number of all-Americans, to senior colleges; and the baseball team compiling an enviable won-loss record.

The women's varsity program has also been strengthened. The 1979 volleyball team placed second in the regional tournament, its highest finish ever. The 1979-80 women's basketball team compiled one of the school's best records ever.

During the past decade, Chowan became known, more than ever before, as the area's cultural and fine arts center. The art program was begun within the Fine Arts Department and the Chowan Art Gallery opened. Many attractions in dance, music and drama have been presented to the enjoyment of the campus and the larger community.

In its growth to a place of prominence as one of the nation's finest private, two-year colleges, Chowan has been helped by many different people. Among the forefront of the volunteer leaders and workers have been the members of the board of Trustees and Board of Advisors. The student body and alumni have played an important role in Chowan's progress and in molding the college into what it is today.

The closeness of the faculty and staff and their mutual respect and appreciation for each other is a strength from which will spring even greater success and progress during the 1980s.

—President Bruce E. Whitaker

A Little Unusual...

DR. WHITAKER

"Although a college president is expected to have everything under control at all times, the family dog, 'Trixie,' frequently gets out of line. On one occasion, the faculty and student alike enjoyed watching my reaction in chapel when I was making a very important address to the Chowan community. I noticed that low-down dog in the back of the auditorium after I had started to speak. She heard and recognized my voice, so she started trotting down (at that time) the middle aisle. When she reached the front of the auditorium, she looked up, sniffed and dashed up the steps to the stage and started gleefully jumping up and down on my leg, wagging her tail and yapping! By the time Dean Lowe picked her up and took her away, Trixie was so scared by the wild applause that she had her tail between her legs. I guess that goes to show that even college presidents have skeletons in their closets!"

PHIL ROYCE

"I guess the thing that stands out most in my mind as being memorable in relation to my job occurred in the field of sports. In 1970, Chowan entered its annual football game with Ferrum, our arch-rival, possessing a 6-0 record. It was a tremendously hard fought football game, but Chowan emerged victorious when our halfback broke loose on a 50-yard touchdown run. This kept us undefeated and advanced us in the national rankings."

DEAN WINSLOW

"My most interesting incident contains a very subtle type of humor. Several years ago, the Iranian students held a sit-in around the pine trees and boycotted classes because they felt I was treating them unfairly. In fact, they even hung me in effigy in front of the Columns Building. Dr. Whitaker finally broke up the rally."

MR. NICHOLSON

"We had a student one year come in for an excuse because of a death in her immediate family. When I asked her who died, she paused and said, 'my grandmother.' She had missed a critical test and wrote a note and signed her mother's name on the note — it looked fishy to me."

I had to call her home to verify her excuse. When I asked her mother who had died, she said, 'Was it her aunt?' I said, 'You're not even close. She said it was her grandmother.' Her mother then answered, 'Oh, that's right. It was her grandmother.'"

DEAN LEWIS

"It was a spring evening, after midnight, with a beautiful full moon when I heard about some disturbance on campus. At that time the Dean of Men and I went over to investigate. While we were investigating that incident in a residence hall, we kept hearing some kind of strange noise. We couldn't tell whether it was a student in trouble or what, but we did determine that the sounds were coming from the lake area. The Dean of Men walked down the walkway toward Parker Hall and the security man and I drove down. When we got there, it was apparent the noise was coming from the lake. As we arrived at the spillway, we saw two guys in an old pontoon boat on the lake singing "Joy to the World." They paddled the boat right up to shore as they hadn't discovered we were there yet. The Dean of Men called them by name and asked them what they were doing out on the lake. They replied that they had been drinking and had discovered they were too drunk to go back into the residence hall. At the time they were only concerned with not bringing undue notice to themselves."

CHAPLAIN TAYLOR

DEAN LOWE

"The unusual is usual for the office of the Dean of the College. Two examples follow. The first of these occurred while I was in the office of the Dean; the second occurred during the time of my predecessor:

1. A student came in to see me. He appeared upset, claiming that he needed to go home for several days due to the death of his uncle, who was his legal guardian. While the student was sitting in my office talking with me, the telephone rang. The "dead" uncle, in very good health, was calling to check on his nephew.

2. A student had been making long distance calls on a pay phone and charging these to numbers that he picked at random from the telephone book. On one evening, he placed such a call and gave to the operator the number to be charged for the call. In picking a number from the telephone book, he had accidentally picked the home phone number of the operator. The operator casually put the call through, and then called the police. The police picked up the student while he was still talking on the phone."

"Once a security guard on campus approached me with a question, 'You're the new chaplain, aren't you?'

'Yes,' I answered.

'You're a doc too, huh?'

'Yes.'

'Well, I've got this sore on my elbow and . . .', replied the guard.

'I'm sorry about that but that's not the kind of doctor that I am; I had to reply.'"

DOUG GATEWOOD

Doug Gatewood, working in admissions as a recruiter for the college, has had many experiences related to his position at Chowan. However, his most memorable involves not being recognized as an administrative member: "It was my first year at Chowan, the fall semester of 1978. Most student worries were over and the first dance, the 'welcoming dance,' was going over well. When I arrived to help out with the dance, being a new face on campus, I was refused admission to the dance without proper identification. After much embarrassment, I was eventually allowed to enter."

CLIFTON COLLINS

"In filling out the North Carolina Legislative Tuition Grant application, students are asked to give their 'residential address,' which is where the student actually lives. Very often, students give their post office box as their address when they should have given their route number.

Mr. Collins often wonders, "How does a student live in a post office box?"

12 Nations Represented At Chowan

Chowan College has 1,124 students on campus representing 20 states, the District of Columbia and 12 foreign countries.

Of the 1,124, 81 are International Students, representing the countries of Brazil, Columbia, Ghana, India, Iran, Japan, Kuwait, Lebanon, Liberia, Micronesia, Nigeria, and Thailand.

According to Mr. Rowland Pruette advisor and personal counselor to these students, 38 of the 81 students are returning students, either from summer school or the fall term.

"The International Students are encouraged to participate in all the activities of the college," Prutte stated. He also mentioned that contacts are made through the area church groups.

Chowan College also has 629 students from 20 other states, the District of Columbia, or from a U.S. Territory. They are Alabama, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Vermont, Virginia, and West Virginia. One student comes from Puerto Rico.

OUR CAMPUS: PICTURES OF PLACES

THE BOOK STORE

Where can you buy anything from textbooks to toiletries, posters to pens? The College Bookstore is the place. About four weeks a year, the College Bookstore is one of the most visited places in Murfreesboro. The store is packed at the beginning of each semester as students line up to buy the seemingly hundreds of books needed for classes. The bookstore serves two purposes: first, it is a place where students can purchase needed school supplies; and second, it provides students a place to buy toiletries and all the other essentials of dormitory life. Almost every type of clothing made is available and is marked with a Chowan College emblem and on display. The store also has some of the best posters to be found in the area, as well as a collection of notebooks, drinking glasses, tennis balls, photographic supplies and various Chowan memorabilia. The bookstore also serves as a convenient stopping place when checking the mail, heading for the Munchette, or just passing by in between classes. A venture in town could often be avoided merely by making a quick stop at the College Bookstore.

Mrs. Gatewood is the well organized proprietor of the store.

ASKEW STUDENT UNION

The Askew Student Center houses the student recreational facilities for Chowan College. Under the direction of Coach Steve Nelson, the center offers students a place to gather and associate with other students. It is often considered the focal point of entertainment at Chowan and is known as a comfortable place where students can meet in a casual, friendly atmosphere. Open daily from 1:00 pm to 11:00 pm, the Askew Student Center offers foosball, ping-pong, television viewing, a large assortment of magazines and a new addition this year — canoeing.

THE MUNCHETTE

There are times in every semester when the average Chowan student can not stand anymore of the nutritious, but dull, cafeteria food. Limited on finances, the student heads for the Munchette, Chowan's snack bar where good food can be found at surprisingly low prices. Conveniently located on campus, the Munchette is open until 11:00 p.m. nightly so that any case of the munchies can quickly be satisfied. A popular treat, the Braveburger, is a welcome alternative to the typical fast food burger found in town. A popular place to gather after the home sporting events, the Munchette is a great place to meet people as well as catch up on the local news while enjoying some good conversation. Chowan's snack bar even has its very own television with a sectioned off area for quiet viewing. The television area has become a popular place for catching up on the soap opera scene in the day time or enjoying a sit-com at night. Always a good place to study between classes, the Munchette is the spot on campus to grab a bite or a quick drink.

The food is really good — especially the cheeseburgers — mmm, they're somethin' special!

CAREER DEVELOPMENT

Don't pass through college so fast that you loose track of which curriculum is best suited to your abilities. At the Career Development Center in Stone Hall, specially trained counselors are available to discuss educational, personal, social and career concerns as well as other matters related to individual development. Counselors Patricia Owens and Diane Wood, together with student aides, can help solve a variety of problems or dilemmas that any Chowan student may face. The development center is full of interesting catalogues and brochures from schools all over the country that can help a student determine which school is best suited for his occupational goals. The Career Development Center has many specialized programs that serve the students. Classes dealing with study skills, programs for human potential, and sessions about self-management are available to all students. They even have information that can help prepare for examinations, giving tips on how to study, and conquer the problem of nervousness. Our tireless counselors are Diane Wood and Linda Owens.

THOMAS CAFETERIA

Are you ready for an interesting change of taste? you are? When you're at the Chowan College Cafeteria, you're at the right place. The cafeteria staff consists of talented, dedicated workers who always have new and interesting surprises for the students at Chowan. Although serving 1,000 people isn't easy, the cafeteria staff accepts the challenge three times per day. Just think how many hours go into the planning and preparation of one meal! The staff must really think the students at Chowan are something special.

Bob Laws enjoys a Chowan breakfast.

"Can I see your I.D.?"

Remember the lines?

Although there was a lot of criticism about the cafeteria food in 1979-80, Chowan students had little reason to complain. In comparison with other colleges throughout the state, Chowan's food ranked among the best. During second semester, students were given the opportunity to choose the menus, which satisfied many of the cafeteria dissidents.

PENNY INFIRMARY

Penny Infirmary is a special building on the Chowan College campus. Built in 1964, it has played an important role in the lives of Chowan students. The modern well-equipped facility is open to any student seeking medical attention. Students can go to the infirmary day or night and receive treatment from the trained and skillful nurses on duty. The friendly nurses can help to remedy anything from a common cold to a sprained ankle. Students who may be too ill to attend classes, or those sick with a possibly contagious disease, can stay comfortably at the infirmary. Recuperation under the nurses' care can be less painful. Students with questions concerning their health and hygiene can go to the infirmary for advice. Students can feel assured that they have a place to go in a time of need.

EXAMINATION

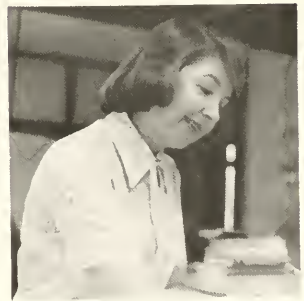

LIBRARY

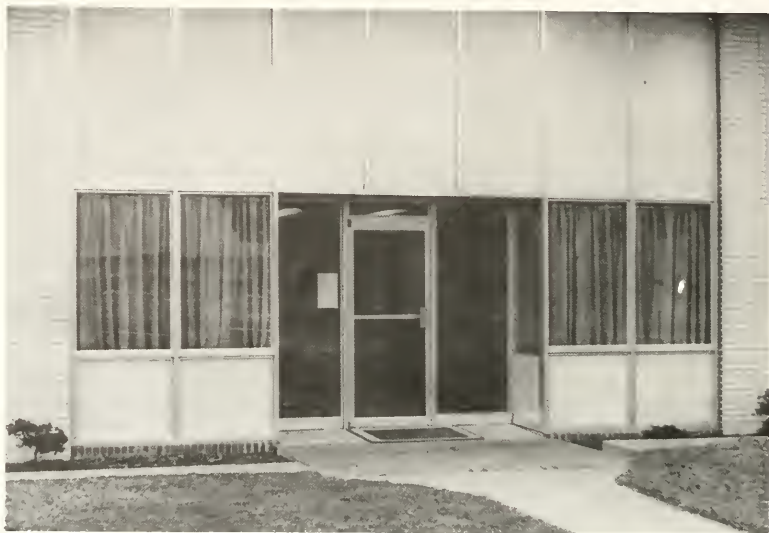

Whether to escape a noisy dorm room or to find an interesting novel to take their minds off their studies, many Chowan students find peace within the friendly confines of spacious Whitaker Library. The students work with the patient staff to locate, among other things, research materials, misplaced books, or a seemingly unavailable newspaper.

The newspaper and periodical racks are perhaps the library's most popular features as both students and faculty seek news of local and personal interest. The card catalog and the copying machine are probably next in popularity. However, this in no way lessens the importance of the other parts of the facility. In short, Whitaker Library offers something for virtually everybody as most Chowanians have discovered.

HOUSING / MAINTENANCE

Ever wonder why you're in the room you're in? Ever lost your room key? Dropped your valuable engagement ring down a drain? If you ever have, you are probably familiar with the friendly people in the housing and maintenance department. Under the direction of Bennie T. Vann, the Housing Department is responsible for assigning students rooms and assuring their satisfaction. The department of buildings and grounds keeps campus buildings in working order. Superintendent Jack Hassell supervises maintenance of the dormitories as well as other campus structures, while Steve Davenport heads the custodial branch of the department. All work together to see that the students get a room that is in the best possible condition. Repairs of damaged property are also performed by the housing and maintenance department. They also register students' refrigerators as well as distribute room keys. These people behind the scenes help to guarantee the smooth functioning of the domestic side of college life.

The people who keep us going stay busy. From repairing College vehicles to painting signs, fixing windows and killing rodents — they are always available to help out.

SECURITY

A campus the size of Chowan needs top security twenty-four hours a day. The Security Department of Chowan College is always on the lookout for student's safety. Headed by Jack Britt, Security is composed of three full-time guards who are aided by eighteen part-time students. The issuing of parking tickets, party control, hall safety and student relations are the dominant roles of security.

FALL CONVOCAATION

College Stadium September 3, 1979

Fall Convocation is a special assembly of Chowan students held at the beginning of each school year. It is the first gathering of the entire student population and an inspiring hour of encouragement from college leaders. During the Fall Convocation, which is presided over by Chaplin R. Hargus Taylor, the purpose of the college is made clear. Its purpose is simple: "...to provide quality higher education and to help students gain a philosophy of life which will lead to their development into responsible Christian leaders and citizens."

At the 1979 Fall Convocation, Dean of the College, B. Franklin Lowe, Jr., gave an interesting and informative address about the purpose of Chowan College and how the student fits into its purpose while fulfilling his own purpose.

College President Bruce E. Whitaker gave an inspiring address about "Getting the Most Out of College," in which he encouraged students to grasp at their chances of a better education and improve themselves in the process.

FOUNDER'S DAY

McDowell Columns Auditorium October 10, 1979

Founder's Day is a Chowan tradition stretching back many years in which the founding of the college is celebrated. Held in October of each year, Founder's Day honors those who founded the college as well as those first female students who were there that historic day, October 11, 1848, when the Chowan Female Institute was formally opened.

During the Founder's Day celebration in 1979, College Chaplin R. Hargus Taylor addresses the assembled students about the importance of the "Homecoming Tradition," and Anna Belle Crouch introduced the candidates for Homecoming Court. Pretty Gayle Boniface would be named Homecoming Queen for 1979 on Homecoming Day, thus joining a list of queens beginning in 1956 with Homecoming Queen Betty Ann Liverman.

Few of those present at the founding of Chowan 132 years ago could have imagined the success Chowan College and those who attended it would achieve in the years to come.

DANCES

The Student Government Association sponsored a number of dances throughout the school year. These free dances gave students a chance to get away from their books and vent their pent up energies on the dance floor.

Honored by the presence of bands like Sandcastle, Tracks, and Staircase, Chowan College students were rocked and rolled, discoed, and mellowed right into the early morning hours. Other bands such as Casper, Buster, and the Catalina's, were also the stars of Thomas Cafeteria for one night. Some dances were organized to celebrate specific activities and holidays, while others were scheduled to break up the monotony of day-to-day college life.

WHO'S WHO

Thirty-two sophomores were nominated by Chowan College for inclusion in the 1979-80 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges, one of the most prestigious awards a junior college student can receive.

Membership in Who's Who, a recognized institution of the American academic community, is conferred yearly upon outstanding student leaders. Over the past years, more than 600 junior colleges have adopted this program as part of their annual campus honors. Selections are made by campus nominating committees and are based on decidedly above average academic standing, community service, leadership ability and future potential.

As evidence and recognition of this honor, a certificate was presented to each Chowan student. As a lifetime Who's Who member, the students become eligible to use the Reference/Placement Service maintained for the exclusive assistance of nominees seeking postgraduate employment, fellowships, or admission to the various voluntary service organizations. There is never any charge for these services.

The 32 students chosen to represent Chowan in the annual edition of Who's Who, forms one of the largest groups in the school's history.

LEEANN KAY BARLOW

Leeann is from Chesapeake, Virginia. She is studying Accounting and also plans to get a certificate in Word Processing.

CHOIR

Classical, jazz, pop, and folk music are all a part of the repertoire of the Chowan College Choir. In addition to having a wide range of voices, from soprano to bass, the choir sings a wide range of music which includes both religious and secular music, and they have even learned songs in Latin, French, and German. The full choir, which is comprised of 46 members, presents a Christmas and Spring concert each year.

The Touring Choir, which is a smaller group of 22 students, travels to various churches and sings primarily religious music. In the past, the Touring Choir has taped a 30-minute Christmas show in Washington, North Carolina and sung in Greenville at the Baptist State Convention. The Chowan College Choir not only has a wide range of music, but a wide range of talent, too.

The Chowan College Stage Band is a group of talented and dedicated musicians who perform at various functions and represent the school in band competitions. The band is open to all students who are interested in playing band music.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

The student legislature consist of one representative who is elected to represent various student halls. Each hall elects a representative that they feel can best express their ideas and suggestions in the SGA meetings. During the 1979-80 school year the student legislature organized many activities that helped to serve and entertain the college students. Events such as Parent's Day, Homecoming and Spring Festival were sponsored, while several campus clubs and organizations were lent money to finance important activities that could not be financed in other ways. The legislature tackled problems ranging from the cafeteria to student apathy.

CHOWAN PLAYERS

The Chowan Players, an organization composed of students interested in drama and drama production on the college level, produced two major plays during the 1979-80 school year.

Under the direction of advisor Sandra N. Boyce, the Players presented Woody Allen's comedy "Don't Drink the Water" and Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer Prize winning "Our Town."

"Don't Drink the Water" was performed October 3, 4, and 5 before moderate but responsive crowds. Excerpts from the farce, an adventurous tale of tourists being suspected of spying in an Iron Curtain country and subsequently taking refuge in an inept American embassy, were also shown to both Monday and Wednesday assembly congregations.

Key roles were staged by Dan White (Father Drobney), Rhett Coats (Axel Magee), Beckie Brasie (Marion Hollander), Aubrey Cuthrell (Walter Hollander), Laura Askew (Susan Hollander), Kevin Wilson (Sultan of Bashir), and Bobby Cunningham (Kilroy).

Other participants were Kevin Cole, Steve Whittemore, John Sullivan, Darleen Keene, Penny Jones, Jamille Aceves, and Bruce Walbert. Penny Jones assisted Mrs. Boyce with the production and direction of the event.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Chowan Science Club is an important campus organization devoted to the learning and better understanding of science. The club was organized for the benefit of science oriented students and is affiliated with the North Carolina Collegiate Academy of Sciences. Its main purpose is to stimulate interest in the sciences by introducing the lesser known fields through informative programs and projects.

SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB

The Chowan College Sociology Association is an organization that promotes interest in community service projects. The club sponsors field trips and guest speakers in order to expose members to information on the development, structure and function of human groups conceived as processes of interaction or as organized patterns of collective behavior. The club's advisor is Dr. John W. Gosnell.

SNEA

The Student National Education Association is a national organization for students who are interested in a career in education. The SNEA was founded in 1937 as a chapter of the National Education Association and has served more than one million members across the country since its inception. The SNEA bylaws state the purpose of the organization — "...to develop an understanding of the educational profession, to provide for a united student voice, to influence the conditions under which prospective educators are prepared, to advance the interests and welfare of students preparing for a career in education, to promote and protect human and civil rights and the highest ideals of professional ethics, standards and attitudes."

GOSPEL CHOIR

The Chowan Gospel Choir is an organization run by students which seek to further the cause of Christ. Under the leadership of Jerry Hendrick, the group has developed progressively.

BSU-CCF

Being a two-year co-educational college owned and supported by the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, Chowan attempts to instill Christian ideals in each and every student.

The Baptist Student Union-Campus Christian Fellowship, more than any other organization on campus, gives the Christian student a chance to express his religious convictions before fellow students.

Under the direction of the chaplain of the college, Dr. R. Hargus Taylor, BSU-CCF meets weekly in Room 201 of Daniel Hall. Group members attend religious-oriented camps, workshops and seminars to further enhance their religious growth.

Over the past several years, Dr. Taylor and his students have made it a project to visit the elderly at Pine Manor Rest Home in Ahoskie.

CIRCLE K

Circle K is a campus club that offers both service and special opportunities to the student. The club is affiliated with Kiwanis International and stresses the student's personal leadership skills and contributes in the growth of personal initiative in analyzing the needs of our environment and finding solutions to some of our problems. Through Circle K, students can find ways to be more active in their communities, as well as play an active role in student affairs. The organization is open to both men and women students with 2.0 or better grade point averages.

DAY STUDENTS

The Chowan College Day Student Organization is composed of all students classified as commuting students. The objective of the organization is to encourage the involvement of day students in college sponsored activities. The group elects one representative to the SGA Legislature. It also sponsors many student functions.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

The International Student Organization is an organization designed to enhance the relationship between national and international students at Chowan. The students can meet and discuss some of their differences and similarities as well as learn more about different countries and life styles. The group is open to all students.

INTER-CLUB COUNCIL

The Interclub Council allows the organizations at Chowan College to discuss and plan activities while insuring each organization a voice in student affairs.

Presidents of each club meet twice each month to review and plan matters of interest to the general student body in relation to the wishes of the organization they represent.

MONOGRAM CLUB

The Monogram Club is one of Chowan College's most prestigious clubs. Any student who is a member of a varsity athletic team and who participates in an intercollegiate activity is eligible for membership. Athletes in the Monogram Club come from a wide variety of sports such as baseball, basketball, football, golf, softball, tennis, volleyball, and wrestling.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

SAR

The Student Admissions Representatives are students who volunteer their free time to show prospective students the Chowan campus. This tour gives a view of the campus from the eye of the student rather than the paid dorm administrator who just might not tell it in the same manner. Prospective students can be free to ask questions and find out the good and the not so good points of the school.

The staff of "Smoke Signals" feels this year's student newspaper was the best in Chowan's history. "Smoke Signals" editor, Harry Pickett, says that his paper's primary objective was to tell the truth.

Students found the bi-monthly medium a means of entertainment and complete school information, and not just another flimsy "gossip" sheet hurried to the nearest trash can or picked up for the sole purpose of wrapping fish.

"Smoke Signals" was noted for its controversial news coverage, especially its reporting on alleged scandals within the Student Government Association, and for its hard hitting editorials, which were thought-provoking and concise.

"Smoke Signals", published and edited by students in the Chowan School of Graphic Communications, is co-advised by James B. Graham, a former reporter of the "Washington Post", and Mrs. Marianne Jackson.

THE CHOWANOKA

The purpose of a yearbook is to capture the memories of the past year with photographs, captions, and the like. The Chowanoka, being the annual publication at Chowan College, presents the indepth life of Chowan's students and faculty, and for the future, offers countless remembrances.

Scott White and Rochel Roland, co-editors of Chowan's annual, feel they and the staff have collaborated in the 1979-80 edition to compile a year's worth of memories that will last for a lifetime, in the lives of all Chowanians.

Nothing can make a football or basketball game more exciting than a good high-spirited squad of cheerleaders leading the fans in support of their team. The 1979-80 Chowan cheerleading squad was just that kind of squad: one that could make a boring lop-sided game into an exciting rout and make a loss seem like an even closer hard fought game. As in years past, the Chowan cheerleaders kept enthusiasm high no matter what the scoreboard read. Chowan's tradition of winning was upheld along with its tradition of active fan participation. The cheerleading squad can take some credit for assuring both traditions, as they urged the Braves' teams to victory while making the crowd a deciding factor at every home game. Under the direction of their sponsor, Mrs. Alice D. Vann, director of residence life, the cheerleaders did their job of developing sportmanship among Chowan students, maintaining enthusiasm and school spirit, and improving the relationships between Chowan College and other teams at athletic events.

Pam Harris
Co-Captain —

Cheerleading at Chowan College is open to both male and female students. Tryouts are held early in the Fall Semester.

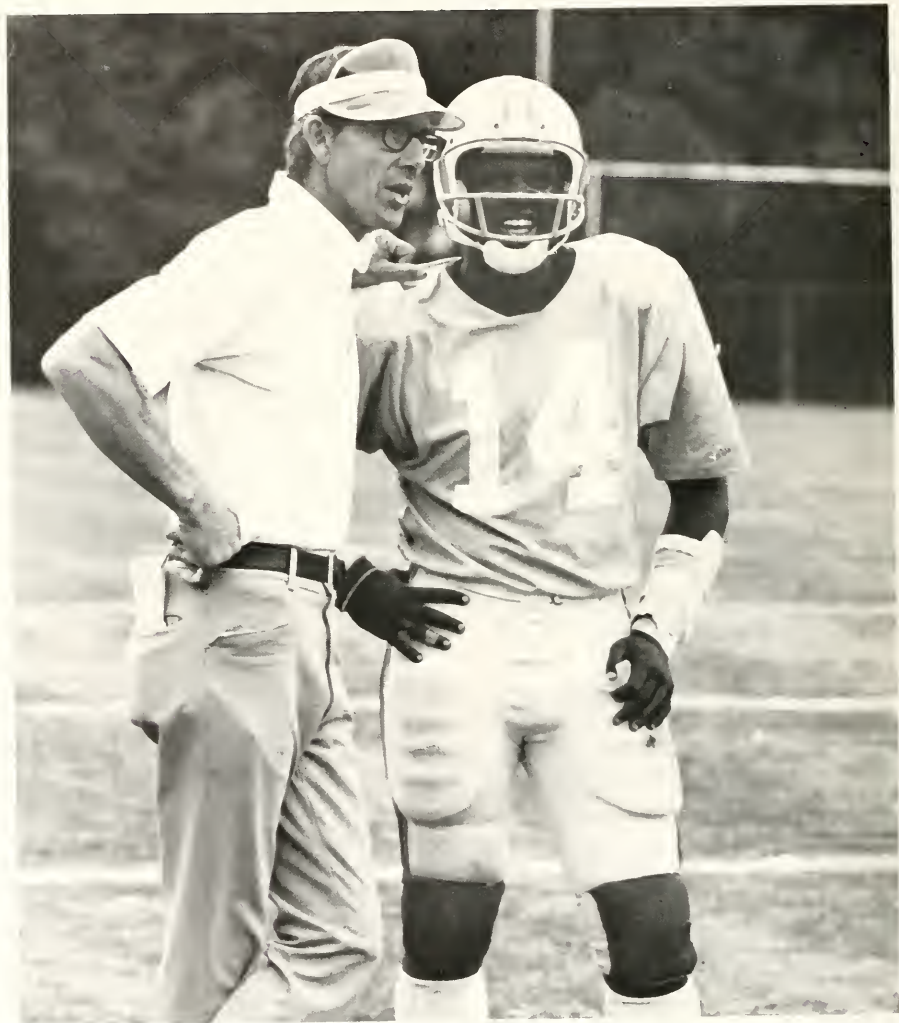

Cheerleaders are selected to maintain enthusiasm and school spirit, to promote and develop a sense of good sportsmanship among the students, and to better the relationship between Chowan College and other teams at athletic events.

SPORTS

Jim Garrison, in his 22nd year as head coach of the Chowan Braves, led the gridders to a second place finish in the tough Coastal Conference. Here Garrison talks strategy with quarterback Xavier Love during play against rival Lees McRae.

Chowan finished its 1979 football season with a bang, demolishing Coastal Conference foe Nassau 34-0 in New York. For the season, however, Coach Jim Garrison's offense wasn't as potent, and his tribe settled for a 7-4 record and a second place conference standing behind arch-rival Ferrum.

Garrison, who completed his 22nd season here at Chowan, won his 115th game, which ranks him fourth among active junior college coaches in the nation.

The Braves relied on its nationally ranked defense for the better part of the season to come up with the big plays. Giving up a stingy 8.9 points an outing, Chowan's defense was led by the "Bookends", defensive ends Robert Brown and Hal Henderson. Henderson, an all-American last season as a freshman, and Brown an all-conference selection, terrorized opposing quarterbacks on Saturday afternoons, to the delight of Garrison.

Chowan's biggest victories came over two four-year universities in the form of Duke's JV and East Carolina's junior varsity, winning 10-7 and 13-6 respectively.

Tailback Percy Godette again led the conference in rushing, and was the starter in the Seventh Annual Coastal Conference all-star team, along with Brown and Henderson. Chowan quarterback Xavier Love was the games Most Valuable Offensive Player.

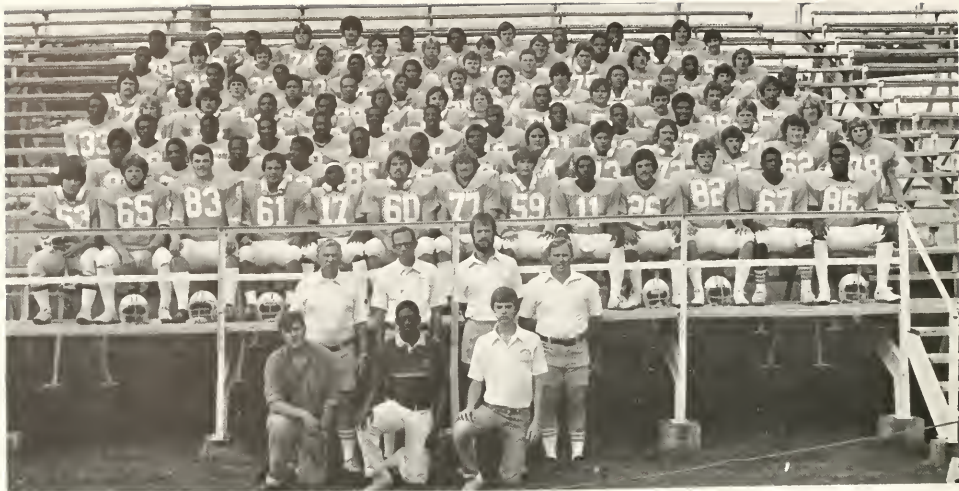

Chowan, at one time ranked as high as sixth in the country by the Associated Press, had two new coaches on the scene this season in Scott Colclough and former Chowan defensive coach Dan Surface. For the 22nd consecutive season, Jerry Hawkins was the offensive line coach.

After a hard fought victory over Duke's JV, Coach Jim Garrison lauds the play of his troops.

1979 VOLLEYBALL

VOLLEYBALL

Coach Janet Collins and the 1979 women's volleyball team represented Chowan College well this year, finishing the season with a surprising 10-13 record, one of the best finishes in recent history.

The lady spikers finished second in the tough NJCAA Region X tournament in the fall, improving its third-place finish of 1978 when they were 7-17 overall.

Three players were selected to the all-Region team, as well as being selected Chowan's top spikers. Wanda Bacote of Charlotte was named the outstanding offensive player, while Terri Tyler, freshman co-captain from Raeford, earned the honor from the defense. Sophomore co-captain Georgia Ross of Charlotte was named the team's most valuable player.

Collins was pleased especially with the late surge the ladies displayed at the end of the regular season when they compiled a record four-game winning streak, in which two of the victories came against senior colleges.

All-Region: Ross, Bacote and Tyler

SPIKERS IN ACTION

1979 VOLLEY BALL

Managers: Lisa Huffman, Ann Vaughan, Bettie Jo Darden, Jay Hilton

Managers

The managers didn't receive much recognition or glory this season, but their role was a vital one. They not only handled the chore of washing sweaty uniforms, handing out towels, dishing out the water and all the other morbid things managers are known for; they were also good for team morale. Coach Collins counted on these high-spirited persons for encouragement, enthusiasm and a lot of good 'ole hollern'.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Improving on a 5-12 season of a year ago, Coach Roy Winslow and his Lady Squaws finished the 1979-80 basketball season with a fine 17-9 campaign. The final season standing is the finest women's finish in the school's history.

During the season Winslow started a young, but very talented group of hoopsters. Six players shared starting duties and five were freshmen, with the most talented being 6-1 freshman forward, Donnie Stephens.

Stephens, an All-Region 10 selection and a member of the Eastern All-Region 10 Tournament, led the ladies in scoring, rebounding and field goal percentage. She popped the cords at a 17.8 clip, brought home 11 rebounds and fired a blistering 53.9 percentage from the floor.

Chowan ended its season with a 91-70 loss to defending national NJCAA finalists Louisburg in Raleigh. Winslow feels it was his "finest" season as coach of the ladies and cites that next year he will have an abundance of talent, leadership, but most importantly, "experience."

"I should get this shot patented"

"It'll never work, coach."

"Willie, I don't care what Dr. Whitaker said."

Donnie Stephens, the Lady Braves' star player, goes up with one of her devastating shots. Stephens and the rest of the girls finished with a 17-9 record, the best in the school's history. Teammates Nancy Flemming, Jackie Gore, and Sandra Brown come in to assist.

"COME UP WITH SOMETHING NEW, COACH!"

GRAPPLERS ENJOY BEST CHOWAN SEASON EVER!

Chowan's 1979-80 wrestling team made the finest showing of any Chowan wrestling in the school's 132-year history. The Braves concluded their season with a 12-0 dual record, which prompted Coach Steve Nelson to call the season a "super" team effort.

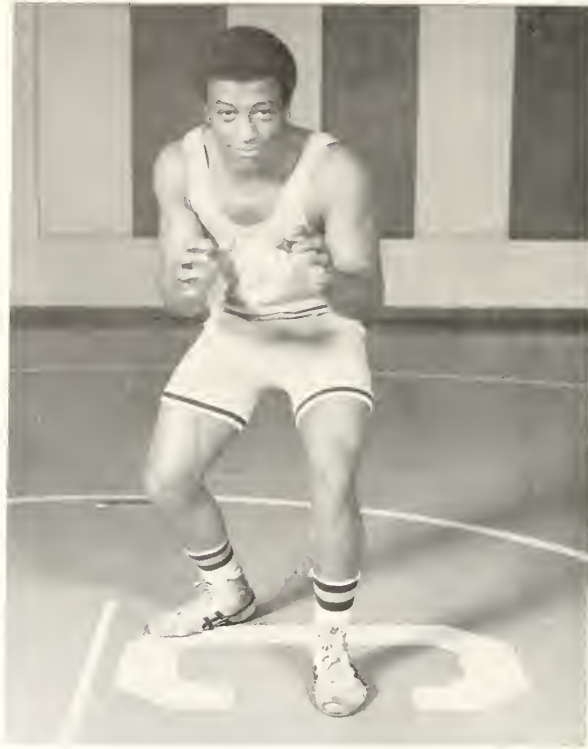

Other accolades the team received included a seventh place finish in the National Junior College Athletic Association's annual national finals in Worthington, Minnesota, where two Chowan wrestlers picked up their share of glory.

The wrestlers also managed to win the Southeastern Regional Tournament title in Cocoa, Florida. Chowan nosed out Chattahoochee Community College by one-fourth of a point to bring home the championship.

The Braves were paced by Doug Saunders in the 134-pound division and Steve Miltsakakis in the 190-pound class. Both sophomores won individual championships. Placing second for Chowan were Earl Sheppard (118), Kenny Barber (150), Donald White (158), and David Leman (heavyweight).

Saunders and Miltsakakis took their act to Minnesota in March and represented Chowan well in the nationals. Saunders won the 134-pound title and Miltsakakis claimed third place in the 190-pound weight classification. Both were named to the NJCAA All-America teams. Saunders was a first-team selection and Miltsakakis a second-team member.

Dr. R. Hargus Taylor, Captain William Barnes, and Coach Jerry Smith.

Despite owning a fine 22-8 record during the 1979-80 season, the Chowan Braves basketball team feels they had a mediocre year.

For the first time since Coach Jerry Smith took over the reigns as head coach in 1977, the tribe did not win the Eastern Tarheel Conference race. The team fell to a secondplace tie with Louisburg College, both showing 5-3 marks.

The two years previous, Coach Smith's teams went undefeated through the conference slate, posting impressive 8-0 records. This season, however, Southeastern Community College, the Cinderella team of the ETC, took the top spot in the league with a 7-1 record.

Individual ETC Tournament honors went to Johnny Johnson and William Barnes. The two sophomores were named to the ETC all-conference teams. Johnson was a first-team selection and Barnes second.

"Listen to me and we'll rule the world."

TWO!!!

Freshmen played a large role in the Braves 22-8 season, showing unusual leadership abilities and uncanny court savy. Mark More (left), a freshman from Fairfax, Va., lofts one over Mt. OOPS!!!

Chowan Braves all-conference catcher Fran Fitzgerald stumbles off-balance while attempting to find this foul ball through the glaring spring sun. The Braves graduated a talented group of sophomores last year when Coach Jerry Hawkins' crew won 15 games. This year, Fitzgerald and 12 other sophomores were looked on for leadership.

The Braves got off to a slow start, but represented the school well with their inspiring play and great sportsmanship.

Dwight Collier, a former Braves baseballer and now a graphic communications instructor, took over the assistant coaching reigns this spring.

"Catfish Jr."

"Here's the target."

"Here it comes Fritz!"

"I'm practicing for a Colgate commercial."

Fran Fitzgerald (above, left) gives Chris Didlake the strike-zone target in the Braves 7-2 conference win over Mount Olive College.

Chris (above) grits his teeth and fires the fast one by the Trojan hitter.

Dean Barrow rides the pine, but he's still all smiles, as the Braves complete the conference double-header with a 2-0 victory.

THERE IT GOES!!!

"So long ball!!"

"This helmet doesn't fit my curls."

"Floyd, there's the Goodrich blimp above us."

"I lost track of the score, coach."

"I don't want to hear it."

SOFTBALL

"Let me out, please!!!"

Linda Owens took over as head coach of the Lady Braves softball team this spring, bringing with her charisma and the much needed knowledge of the game, to propell the squaws to a super showing this season.

The team is a young one, and Owens feels next year's season... will even be better...as she prepares for her second year at Chowan as a coach and guidance counselor.

"Hit this one, 'fatso!'"

"Blowing bubbles is my game."

"I double dare you to throw it."

TENNIS

"Bring it on," says Kevin Wilson.

Chowan's, tennis team got off to a great start in 1980, winning its first five matches, and becoming favorite to capture the Eastern Tarheel Conference crown.

Coaches Tim McCasksy and Jerry Smith directed the netters to the successful campaign, developing a winning foundation.

Michael Perry, a returning letterman from the 1979 team, recieved all-conference honors. Perry and Randy "Rock" Murphy teamed up to capture the ETC doubles title.

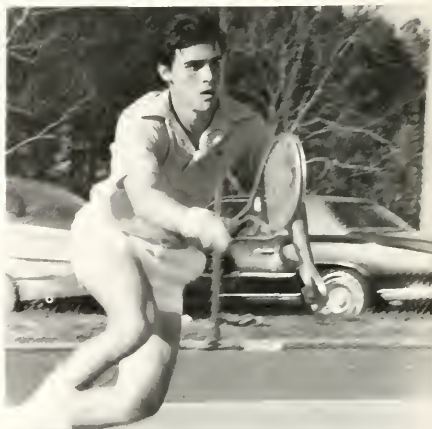

ALL-ETC MICHAEL PERRY

"Check out this form!"

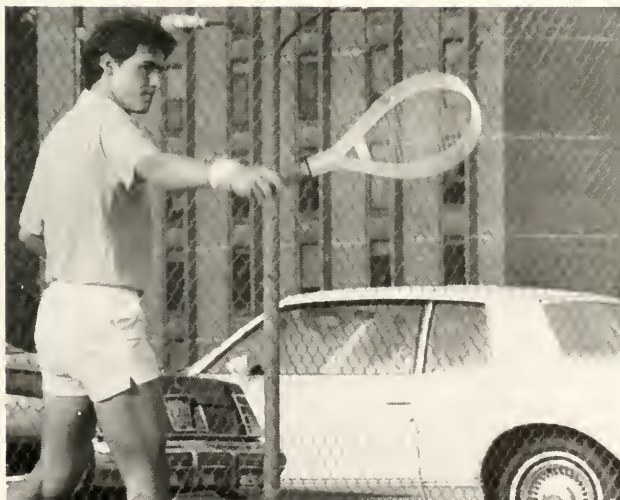

"Jimmy Connors, eat your heart out.

Lee Freeman charges for a low one.

"Who needs Ballet?"

"Some backhand, huh?"

Tennis Anyone?

GOLF

"Where is it?"

Members of Chowan's golf team ramble in the bushes for the golfball that got away (left). Under the guidance of Coach Bill Sowell, the linksters have vastly improved over recent years. Sowell's men have represented the school well in conference and regional contests. The team was young this season, with five freshmen and two sophomores leading the way. Sowell looks for an outstanding season next spring.

Before we came to Chowan College, many of us knew very little of Murfreesboro, N.C. As we arrived in this small town in the northeastern region of North Carolina, we found it to be a small community, but a community enveloped with proud, industrious and independent persons.

For the last year, and two for others, Murfreesboro has been home away from. Because of its historic significance, quaint environment and hospitable residents, being a Chowan student has been a worthwhile experience — educationally and socially.

For your endurance Murfreesboro, North Carolina, we salute you.

PANTY RAID ERRUPTS INTO VANDALISM HUNDREDS INVADE DORMS

By DEAN LOWMAN
News Editor

Although it started out as a seemingly harmless prank characteristic of college life, a midnight "panty raid" created a sense of panic, confusion and fear and caused much destruction to the Chowan College community on October 18.

Hundreds of students, both male and female, invaded the various residence halls in the late-night venture, taking items ranging from underclothes to dresses and trousers. In addition, doors and windows were broken and some students almost suffered serious injury.

"We were taken completely by surprise," commented Renee Lambert, head resident on fourth floor of the Columns Building. "One of my girls went into shock, another suffered an asthma attack, and yet another almost had a stroke because of the rapid increase in her blood pressure."

The Columns building was the site of the most damage. Three doors were damaged as was one window.

Belk Dorm endured a broken glass door in its lounge while a window in a room in Jenkins Hall was damaged.

Total cost of repairing the damages is $201.09.

As for the determining of proration, Jack Hassell, head of the Maintenance Department, feels that "the responsibility for determining how the prorate will be distributed for damages done in something like a panty raid is left with the head residents of the dorms and the deans."

Hassell admits that he's not sure whether the residents of the damaged dorms will have to pay for the repairs if the guilty parties aren't determined. However, Hassell adds that he feels "the cost, approximately 20 cents per person, will probably be charged to every student."

What caused the event to change from a mere panty raid into a destructive venture?

"Apparently, some of the participants were under the influence of alcohol and got caught up in the festivities," commented Dean Roy Winslow, dean of men. "This caused their inhibitions to be lowered and allowed them to be talked into invading the dorms and, in some cases, invading the rooms."

Winslow added that he felt panty raids are "part of college life" and could be accepted more readily by the administration "if they (the students) hadn't gone overboard."

Most of the concern exemplified by the students surrounds the reluctance of the participants to return clothing obtained in the raid.

Mrs. Alice Vann, director of residence life, is serving as the coordinator of the recovery effort. Mrs. Vann reports that items are being returned very slowly: "Only a few items, such as a dress and a little bit of underclothing have been turned in to me. I have also had a lady's watch turned in — this has not been claimed yet."

She also believes that many students are keeping articles of clothing as souvenirs. However, Mrs. Vann advocates the students returning the more expensive items such as shirts, blouses, dresses, etc. "Some of the students' rooms were completely ransacked and several complete wardrobes were taken," she lamented.

"My guess is that the whole thing was organized as a type of joke which simply got out of hand," commented Dean Clayton Lewis, dean of students. Though the event caused a great disturbance on campus, "the administration did not become overly concerned until the students made illegal entries into the dormitories."

Lewis indicated that the college could not tolerate that behavior which violates school policy and remain the type of institution that it professes to be.

"If the students remain outside the residence halls, that's fine as it's traditional," concluded Lewis. "But, if they enter the residence halls in future raids, they will probably be dealt with more severely if caught."

THE BLOODMOBILE

Blood Gifts Exceed Goal

By DONNA SWICEGOOD

The Red Cross Bloodmobile visit to the Chowan campus on September 27 was deemed an "overwhelming success" by Steve Nelson, director of Student Activities.

Chowan exceeded its 200-pint goal by 85 pints. 308 persons participated, while 23 were given medical referrals which brought the total donations to 285 pints. This was the largest single collection of blood in Hertford County in the last five years, Nelson emphasized.

The Blood Cup was won by Halifax Community College last year with nearly the same percentage of donors as Chowan had this year, according to Nelson. "We could be in the running for the Blood Cup this year, Nelson maintained.

Cris Roe, Red Cross regional representative, presented programs in assembly on Monday (Sept. 24) and Wednesday (Sept. 26) where he expressed his appreciation to Chowan. He also said that the Chowan Program is one of the best programs ever, according to Nelson.

NEW GYMNASIUM NEARS COMPLETION

As the 1979-80 academic year drew to a close, the new $2.5 million gymnasium-physical education facility was completed and ready for use. An anonymous half-million dollar contribution was received for the structure's completion, with a stipulation that it be named in honor of Senator Jesse A. Helms.

The gymnasium contains three full-size basketball courts, two classrooms, a weight room, a mini-gym, three courts for handball and paddle tennis, steam-bath, sauna, therapy room, laundry room, and an Olympic size swimming pool.

The structure's completion really makes Chowan "somethin' special!"

MOMENTS FROM THE

SMOKE SIGNALS

TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

I have been here at Chowan now for four weeks and, for the most part, I'm thoroughly impressed with what I see. I like my classes, professors, and my schedule.

All the guys on my floor get along well and are able to help each other out if anybody needs it. In general, the people are friendlier, even more so than at my high school, which is the size of Chowan (approximately 950 students).

The planned activities are adequate enough to take the place of most city activities. The other activities are filled by going to Hill's Pub; and the Pig Pickin's, sponsored by the students of the different dormitories on campus.

The dorms and library provide good study habits, except when students who have nice stereo systems begin to show them off by "cranking" the volume.

The one aspect that doesn't contribute to good study habits is the food served in Thomas Cafeteria. Most of the food served in there is basically starch. The best part of the cafeteria is its salad bar, but I look at it this way, who can mess up a salad?

For breakfast you get running scrambled eggs, hash browns, toast, pastry, and cereal; all basically starch, not a well balanced diet at all.

I don't eat lunch very often, so I don't know what's generally served. For supper, however, we're served tasteless food and fatty meats which is just as bad as starch.

This college has it made with modern facilities and a good reputation, but if the administration wants to make a perfect place — spend a little more on the food!!

Sincerely,
Gary Joyce

SGA PRESIDENT ALLEGEDLY LEADS PANTY RAID

By HARRY PICKETT
Smoke Signals Editor

Michael Burke, Student Government Association president, will not be impeached or suspended from office as rumors had it in early December after his actions following an "attempted" toothbrush raid at Belk Hall.

It seems that Burke, allegedly one of the instigators in a panty raid in October, squirted shaving cream on girls who were chasing him outside of East Hall after the raid.

After being summoned to SGA advisor and Residence Life Director Mrs. Alice Vann after the incident, Burke denied his frivolous shaving cream escapade, but later had to own up to it, as Smoke Signals photographer Randy "Rock" Murphy unveiled photos of the incident.

Asked if he denied telling Mrs. Vann that he was not involved in the melee, Burke, said, "I don't know if I told her that or not. I could have. I don't recall."

Clayton Lewis, dean of students, said he disapproved of Burke's motives. He said he did not know the president was involved until late the next morning. He was informed by a member of the Student Development Staff.

The night of the spoof toothbrush raid, Burke said he was in his room when he received a phone call from a girl. The girl was probably from Columns Hall, he noted, because he has received threats and nasty letters from them all year.

"She said I had better lock my door or they were going to get me," Burke explained. "They thought I was in the last raid."

Burke, who stays in Parker Hall, said the girl said she and her friends were coming to raid the whole dorm. Burke said the girls "were going to make sure they were going to get me."

Burke said he then immediately went to Scott Colclough, head resident at Parker, to tell him of the girls' intentions, but he was out. He then went to Greg Kaserman, resident assistant on second floor, and Kaserman locked the doors to Parker Hall.

The student executive said he then called Mrs. Marcella Buffalo, head resident at Belk Hall, to warn her that some Parker men were on their way over to the girls' dorm. But he insisted he never went to Belk Hall to start the raid. "I only wanted to stop the raid."

According to bystanders, the attempted raid was broken up by members of the administration. Then Burke emerged on the scene with shaving cream in hand at East Hall, squirting his rivals with the white foam.

"Certainly I don't approve of his (Burke's actions) or the young ladies going into residence halls to raid for toothbrushes," Lewis said after the incident. "There is competition or conflict between Mike Burke and the girls in Columns."

Burke and Lewis had a conference two days later. "I didn't tell him he would be suspended," Lewis offered. "I told him of the prospect of an officer being relieved of his duties, but I wasn't specifically talking about him."

"I told him we couldn't have it," Lewis continued. "As an officer he couldn't behave in such a manner, particularly since he was SGA president."

Burke said he didn't know why he was called to Dean Lewis' office at the time. "I don't know for sure, but I think it was because of a news reporter."

The SGA president claims the photos taken of him by Smoke Signal's Murphy were fake prints. "This is a school of Graphic Arts and this is a good school for photography. I think they could do trick photography if they wanted."

"I told Dean Lewis that Harry Pickett (Smoke Signal editor) was out to get me."

Lewis said Burke is capable of being an effective SGA president but noted, however, that past presidents have been suspended at Chowan for improper behavior.

"Mike Burke has got to learn a lesson that Richard Nixon had to learn," Lewis said. "Nixon had to learn that he was not above the law."

"If you play, you pay."

— Model Cheryl Tiegs describing herself

"The longer I am out of office, the more infallible I appear to myself."

— Henry Kissinger.

"I've got five backup systems. The fifth one is called the Lord's Prayer."

— Evil Kinevel just before failing to hurdle Idaho's Snake River Canyon in his Sky Cycle, September 1974

REMEMBER

KITES . . . took over windy spring days? There were different kinds and types: Box, Bird, Diamond . . . anything that would get off the ground and into the sky. It was great to take it to the beach and let it fly. Or even in the street hoping that it wouldn't get caught in the wires. Seeing the colorful kite in the air, floating free, while every once in a while giving a tug on the string to keep it up took up hours at a time. Sometimes we'd get daring and make that famous kite do circles in the air. We couldn't wait for those windy days.

STREAKING . . . was the number one pastime of young and old alike? So famous was this pastime that Ray Stevens' single about it sold over a million copies. One could never tell when they might get "moonstruck," whether it be day or night.

BIKING
. . . was a relaxing thing to do on a sunshiny summer day? Called the English racer or 10 speed these bikes had skinny tires and brakes on the handlebar. Going up high hills took quite a bit of pumping action, but coming down was with ease and at a very fast pace. We all remembered not to use the front brakes real quick because from experience we knew that a head over heels trick would happen.

ROLLERSKATING . . . meant going to the skating rink on Saturday morning (cause Mom needed a few hours of peace and quiet), pulling on those heavy boot-type skates, and cruising around the rink listening to your all-time favorite waltzes? This was the image of roller rinks until disco hit the scene. Today, with the help of the disco craze, roller rinks are a place for enjoyment for everyone. The waltzes have been put away and replaced with disco or rock n' roll music. The old booty skates have been replaced with lighter and more attractive disco skates. In general, the atmosphere has changed causing rollerskating to become a popular hobby and sport.

JOGGING . . . first entered the physical fitness scene? It was a chore to decide what kind of jogging suits to buy, how far or long to jog, and what shoes would best satisfy the joggers needs. To date, jogging is the fastest growing exercise for physical fitness and is recommended highly by many physicians as a good way to get in shape. Besides that, it makes for an interesting afternoon in the park for those guy and girl watchers.

DANCES . . . were held in the junior high gym and you had to meet your date there? How about your Junior and Senior Proms when you stayed up all night learning the latest steps. Steps like the Twist, the Shag, the Slide, the Hustle, the Bump, the Fish, the Bunnyhop, the Rock, the Bus Stop, and the Pretzel. Do you remember when you danced at your first Chowan dance.?

WHEN...?

SKATEBOARDS . . . became the popular transportation of all of the neighborhood kids? It was a task to master that simple four-wheeled contraption but once you did, the sky was the limit. So popular did this hobby become that special equipment and parks were established for those loyal and devoted riders. Those not so devoted riders settled for the sidewalk, pavement, or blacktop and only hoped that the skateboard would not do them in.

YO-YO's . . . were the big craze during the early 70's? The Duncan Yo-Yo Corporation held tournaments statewide, challenging all comers, to establish the Duncan Yo-Yo champion. Participants came from near and far to vie for the championship with their Duncan Butterflies, Duncan Glow-in-the-Darks and the famous Duncan special. They performed tricks such as "rock the baby," "round the world," and the dreaded "spider's web." Do you remember when you might have entered some of these contests?

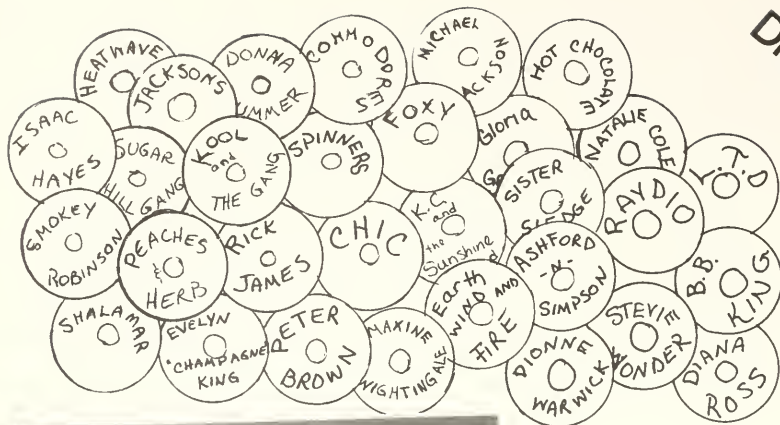

SLANG . . . used to be "Peace Brother," "Like Wow," "Heavy Man," "Groovy," "Give Me Five," "Love" and "Flower Power?" "What sed to be is gone and now it's "What's Happening," "Get Off," "Decent," "Go For It," "Jive Turkey," "Do You Love Me or What?," "Let's Talk Some Trash," and "That's Life!"

FRISBEES . . . would go zinging by when you were at the beach, in the park, at the schoolyard, or in the dorm hall? It didn't matter whether you had an official sportsman frisbee, a "moonlight" special, or one of those cute little Burger Chef specials, but what did matter was the enjoyment of watching it sail through the spring or summer air, taking dips and dives, toward its human or animal receiver.

PET ROCKS . . . first appeared in novelty shops across the continent? This was truly a unique trend. Millions of people went to their favorite variety or novelty store and purchased their very own "pet rock." Homes were set up, names were given, and instructions were read as to the best care and maintenance for the various types of rocks. Can you remember when you bought your own "pet rock" and the name you gave it? Something more interesting to think about is the price you paid for owning a glorified rock!!

WATERSLIDES . . . were constructed at the beach? What a great feeling to climb those 30 or 40 steps to the top of the slide, jumping on that cushioned mat and speeding down the slippery slide to the cool, clear pool waiting at the bottom. Waterslides have become a major attraction of beachgoers and what a great way to beat the heat of a hot summer day.
